ABSTRACT

Based on a survey conducted by the American Association of Junior Colleges (AAJC), this directory provides information on 771 non-profit, public and private two-year colleges in the United States and its territories, including statistics on 1964-65 enrollments, personnel, and student costs. Following material on the scope and compilation of the directory, abbreviations and key terms are explained. Next, the directory lists the colleges alphabetically by state, including the following information for each: location; chief administrative head; year organized as a junior college; type of control or affiliation; AAJC membership; state recognition or accrediting agency; programs offered (i.e., transfer and/or occupational); co-educational or single-sex status; October 1964 enrollment of full- and part-time freshman, sophomore, and unclassified students; October 1964, summer 1965, and October 1965 total enrollments; full- and part-time instructional and administrative faculty in 1964-65; tuition for in-district, out-of-district, and out-of-state students; and fall application deadline. Statewide enrollment summaries are then provided for all institutions and public and independent colleges, followed by tables showing distribution of size of enrollment, independent and church-related colleges by type of control or affiliation, and accredited schools by state. Information on changes in institutions since the previous year, the AAJC, junior college organizations, and state administrators is presented in the final sections. (AYC)

ERRATA

The headings "public" and "independent" in Table II on page 56 are reversed. There are 503 public junior colleges and 268 independent junior colleges listed in the 1966 Junior College Directory.

In addition, some of the figures in the tables are not clearly defined because of reproduction difficulties. On page 15, the tuition in the in-district tuition column for Mitchell College is $1,200, not $200. On page 39, the tuition in the in-district tuition column for Southwood College is $1,495, not $495. On page 49, the tuition in the in-district tuition column for Averett College is $1,800, not $800.

INTRODUCTION

The American Association of Junior Colleges presents in the following pages the 1966 edition of the Junior College Directory, annual compilation of two-year college enrollment data and related information. The Directory once again reflects spiraling enrollments and rapid expansion of community and junior colleges, indicating that growth trends begun a decade and more ago are continuing.

Opening fall enrollments for 1965 totaled 1,292,753, up by twenty-two per cent over opening registrations for 1964. This year the names of seventy-one junior colleges have been added to the Directory, fifty of them new institutions. The total number of colleges listed is 771.

The fifty new colleges accounted for an important share of the enrollment increase, but the trend was up in almost every state, especially those with widespread junior college development. For example, enrollments in Michigan and Pennsylvania increased by 12,000 each, New York showed an increase of 25,000 students, and California, 57,000. Several of the new colleges opened with as many as 1,000 students, and at least one started with more than 3,000 enrollees.

Because of the growing demand for information about junior colleges from parents and young people, additional data on tuitions and fees and on programs offered by junior colleges were added to the 1966 Directory. As in the past, the Directory contains information on accreditation, control, types of institutions, association membership, enrollments, and administrative and instructional staffs.

Other facts include summary tables, by state, on junior college enrollments; the distribution of size of enrollments in junior colleges; the number of independent and church-related junior colleges; the number of regionally accredited junior colleges; and, for the first time, a list of junior colleges that have announced plans to open in 1966.

Information was obtained through a questionnaire survey. The Association, therefore, has relied heavily on the reporting institutions for reliability of all information contained in the Directory. Additional information about junior colleges may be found in the sixth edition of American Junior Colleges (1963), edited by Edmund J. Gleazer, Jr., and published by the American Council on Education, 1785 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036. The American Association of Junior Colleges follows the criteria established for American Junior Colleges in determining those institutions to be included in the Directory. That is, institutions included were those accredited or recognized by the country's six regional accrediting agencies and state level agencies authorized to approve junior colleges.

The office of public relations of the American Association of Junior Colleges collected and analyzed data, edited and produced the Directory. Sheila Kirschbaum, Public Relations Associate, edited the material, assisted by Janice Packard. Data contained in the Directory was processed by the Research Division of the National Education Association. The staff of the Directory wishes to acknowledge with appreciation the assistance of Dr. Glen E. Robinson, Associate Director; Simeon P. Taylor, III, Assistant Director; and Kenneth R. Berger, Computer Programmer, Research Division, the National Education Association.

Definitions of Terms

ENROLLMENT

Full-time — Students carrying at least three-fourths (12 or more semester hours) of normal full-time load.

Part-time — Students enrolled in at least one course for credit and carrying less than three-fourths (less than 12 semester hours) of normal full-time load.

Freshmen — Students who have completed less than 28 semester hours of college credit at time of registration.

Sophomores — Students who have completed 28 or more semester hours of credit at time of registration.

Unclassified — Students not counted in any other category who may not have fulfilled the requirements for matriculation or who are enrolled in college-level courses for which they receive no credit. If the junior college has third-year students, these are included under unclassified.

FACULTY

Faculty — Includes all administrative and instructional personnel.
